

6516208280.txt

Regarding FCC regulation of XM Radio Weather and Traffic channels I don't believe there should be any restriction first because there is no comparable service provided by local radio stations. I am a truck driver and use the channels for immediate information when entering large cities. Trying to find this info on local channels is hit and miss. Also XM is not restricting anyone from listening to local channels. The result of removing this service to me would be affecting the safety of my trip. thanks for your attention.

Susan Walker